The boys and the frogs

A. Look at the pictures. What can you see in them?

There is a pond in a village. Some boys are passing by the pond. They look at the frogs in the pond and stop there.

Some frogs are playing in the water. The boys find some stones near the road.

Taking the stones they begin to throw them at the frogs. They are laughing and clapping.

But their cruel play kills one of the frogs. The other frogs shout against the killing.

The boys and the frogs

A brave frog raises its head and cries out, "Stop! Stop!" The boys say, "We are just playing. " The frog says, "Look at the dead frog. What is play to you is death to us."

The boys become very sad. They say, "Sorry, dear Frog. We will never do it again."

Moral of the Story: What is play to one can be death to other.
